The Tenth Glossop Lecture

Introduction

I. Hodgson

5

Engineering geology of sustainable risk-based contaminated land management

C.P. Nathanail

Research Articles

Analysis of RVE size based on three-dimensional fracture numerical network modelling and stochastic mathematics

W. Zhang, J. Chen, X. Yuan, P. Xu & C. Zhang

31

Remoulding of the Mercia Mudstone Group around CFA pile shafts

L. J. Seward, S. E. Stallebrass & J. Skipper

41

Airborne geophysics: a novel approach to assist hydrogeological investigations at groundwater-dependent wetlands

D. Beamish & G. Farr

53

A newly developed soil abrasion testing method for tunnelling using shield machines

G. Barzegari, A. Uromeihy & J. Zhao

63

The mass stiffness of residual dolomite from large surcharge trials

S.W. Jacobsz

75

Groundwater head in high temperature aquifers

G. Bekesi, M. Tyler & J. Waterhouse

87

Multi-disciplinary characterization and monitoring of sandstone (Kandla Grey) under different external conditions

V. Cnudde, W. De Boever, J. Dewanckele, T. De Kock, M. Boone, M.N. Boone, G. Silversmit, L. Vincze, E. Van Ranst, H. Derluyn, S. Peetermans, J. Hovind, P. Modregger, M. Stampanoni, K. De Buysser & G. De Schutter

95

Technical Notes

Observations on the impact of climate change on landform behaviour and geohazards in the Algerian Sahara

E. M. Lee, P. G. Fookes & A. B. Hart

107

Regional distribution of temperature in the Chalk of the western London Basin syncline

D. Pike, D. Banks, A. Waters & V.K. Robinson

Cover Photograph. 2013 marks the 50th anniversary of the Vaiont landslide in NE Italy, viewed from upstream in the cover photograph. Part of the flanks of Monte Toc slid into a newly completed and filled reservoir, impounded behind an extremely high doubly-curved mass concrete arch dam. While the dam did not collapse, the waves and flood that resulted from the slide caused a tragically high loss of life. Research on the failure has continued right up to the present day.
